Word Formation Techniques

Suffixes

Suffixes can change the word-class and the meaning of the word.

Common noun suffixes

-er /ə/ is used for the person who does an activity, e.g. writer, worker, shopper, teacher.

You can use -er with a wide range of verbs to make them into nouns.

Sometimes, the /ə/ suffix is written as -or instead of -er. It is worth making a special list of these as you meet them, e.g. actor, operator, sailor, supervisor.

-er/-or are also used for things which do a particular job, e.g. pencil-sharpener, bottle-opener, grater, projector.

-er and -ee can contrast with each other meaning 'person who does something.' (-er) and 'person who receives or experiences the action' (-ee), e.g. employer/employee, sender/addressee, payee (e.g. of a cheque).

-(t)ion /ʃ(ə)n/ is used to make nouns from verbs.

complication pollution reduction alteration donation admission

-ist [person] and -ism [activity or ideology]: used for people's politics, beliefs and ideologies, and sometimes their profession (compare with -er/-or professions above), e.g. Marxism, Buddhism, journalism, anarchist, physicist, terrorist.

-ist is also often used for people who play musical instruments, e.g. pianist, violinist, cellist.

-ness is used to make nouns from adjectives. Note what happens to adjectives that end in -y: goodness, readiness, forgetfulness, happiness, sadness, weakness.

Adjective suffix

-able/-ible /əbl/ with verbs, means 'can be done'.

drinkable washable readable recognizable countable forgivable

Examples with -ible: edible (can be eaten) flexible (can be bent)

Verbs

-ise (or -ize) makes verbs from adjectives, e.g. modernise, commercialise, industrialise.

Other suffixes that can help you recognise the word class

-ment: (nouns) excitement enjoyment replacement
-ity: (nouns) flexibility productivity scarcity
-hood: (abstract nouns especially family terms) childhood motherhood
-ship: (abstract nouns especially status) friendship partnership membership
-ive: (adjectives) passive productive active
-al: (adjectives) brutal legal (nouns) refusal arrival
-ous: (adjectives) delicious outrageous furious
-ful: (adjectives) forgetful hopeful useful
-less: (adjectives) useless harmless cloudless
-ify: (verbs) beautify purify terrify

Note: the informal suffix -ish, which can be added to most common adjectives, ages and times to make them less precise, e.g. She's thirtyish. He has reddish hair. Come about eightish.

Practice Activities:

Activity 1

The -er/-or, -ee and -ist suffixes. Use the suffixes to give the names of the following.

Example: A person who plays jazz on the piano. a jazz pianist

1 The thing that wipes rain off your car windscreen.
2 A person who plays classical violin.
3 A person who takes professional photographs. (N.B. pronunciation)
4 A person who acts in amateur theatre.
5 The person to whom a cheque is made out.
6 A machine for washing dishes.
7 A person who donates their kidneys upon their death.
8 The person to whom a letter is addressed.

Activity 2

Each picture is of an object ending in -er. Can you name them?

Activity 3

List six jobs you would like to have in order of preference. How many different suffixes are there in your list? Do any of the job names not have a suffix? (e.g. pilot, film star)

Activity 4

Do these words mean a thing, a person, or both?

1 a cooker
2 a typewriter
3 a ticket-holder
4 a record player
5 a cleaner
6 a smoker
7 a drinker

Activity 5

Spelling changes. Rewrite each sentence by changing the underlined words, using a suffix from the left-hand page. Make any spelling changes needed.

1 Most of his crimes can be forgiven.
Most of his crimes are .....

2 The Club refuses to admit anyone not wearing a tie.
The Club refuses ..... to anyone not wearing a tie.

3 Her only fault is that she is lazy.
Her only fault is .....

4 This firm has produced a lot in recent years.
This firm has been very ..... in recent years.

5 I found the book very easy and pleasant to read.
I found the book very .....

Activity 6

Can you think of anything in your country which should be nationalised (e.g. banks, steel works), standardised, modernised, computerised or centralised?

Activity 7

Which word is the odd one out in each group and why?

1 brotherhood neighbourhood manhood priesthood
2 hair-restorer plant-holder step-ladder oven-cleaner
3 appointment involvement compliment arrangement
4 tearful spiteful dreadful handful
5 worship kinship friendship partnership

Prefixes

Prefixes are often used to give adjectives a negative meaning. The opposite of 'comfortable' is 'uncomfortable', the opposite of 'convenient' is 'inconvenient' and the opposite of 'similar' is 'dissimilar'. Other examples are 'unjust', 'inedible', 'disloyal'. Unfortunately, there is no easy way of knowing which prefix any adjective will use to form its opposite. When you learn a new adjective note down whether it has an opposite formed with a prefix and, if so, what it is.

Note:

- in- becomes im- before a root beginning with 'm' or 'p', e.g. immature, impatient, impartial, improbable. Similarly in- becomes ir- before a word beginning with 'r', and il- before a word beginning with 'l', e.g. irreplaceable, irreversible, illegal, illegible, illiterate.
- The prefix in- does not always have a negative meaning – often it gives the idea of inside or into, e.g. internal, import, insert, income.

Although it is mainly adjectives which are made negative by prefixes, un- and dis- can also form the opposites of verbs too, e.g. appear disappear. The prefix is used here to reverse the action of the verb. Here are some more examples: disagree, disapprove, disbelieve, disconnect, discredit, dislike, dismount, disprove, disqualify, unbend, undo, undress, unfold, unload, unlock, unveil, unwrap, unzip.

Many other prefixes are used in English. Here is a list of prefixes which are useful in helping you to understand unfamiliar words. Some of these words are used with a hyphen. Check in a dictionary if you're not sure.

prefix	meaning	examples
anti	against	anti-war antisocial antibiotic
auto	of or by oneself	autograph auto-pilot autobiography
bi	two, twice	bicycle bi-monthly biannual bilingual
ex	former	ex-wife ex-student ex-president
ex	out of	extract exhale excommunicate
micro	small	micro-computer microwave microscopic
mis	badly/wrongly	misunderstand mistranslate misinform
mono	one/single	monotonous monologue monogamous
multi	many	multi-national multi-purpose multi-racial over	too much	overdo overtired oversleep overeat
post	after	postwar postgraduate post-revolutionary pro	in favour of	pro-government pro-revolutionary pseudo	false	pseudo-scientific pseudo-intellectual
re	again or back	retype reread replace rewind
semi	half	semicircular semi-final semi-detached
sub	under	subway submarine subdivision
under	not enough	underworked underused undercooked

Practice Activities:

Activity 1

Practise using words with negative prefixes. Contradict the following statements in the same way as the example. Not all the words you need are on the left-hand page.

Example: He's a very honest man. I don't agree. I think he's dishonest.

1 I'm sure she's discreet.
2 I always find him very sensitive.
3 It's a convincing argument.
4 That's a very relevant point.
5 She's always obedient.
6 He's very efficient.
7 I always find her responsible.
8 He seems grateful for our help.
9 I'm sure she's loyal to the firm.
10 He's a tolerant person.

Activity 2

Which negative adjective fits each of the following definitions?

1 ..... means not having a husband or wife.
2 ..... means impossible to eat.
3 ..... means unable to read or write.
4 ..... means not having a job.
5 ..... means fair in giving judgement, not favouring one side.
6 ..... means unable to be replaced.

Activity 3

Choose a negative verb from B to fit each of the sentences below. Put it in the correct form.

Example: The runner was disqualified after a blood test.

1 Children (and adults) love ..... parcels at Christmas time.
2 I almost always find that I .....with his opinion.
3 I'm sure he's lying but it's going to be hard to ..... his story.
4 After a brief speech the Queen ..... the new statue.
5 It took the removal men an hour ..... our things from the van.
6 His phone was ..... because he didn't pay his last bill.

Activity 4

Answer the following questions. The answers are all in the table opposite.

1 What kind of oven cooks things particularly fast?
2 What kind of drug can help somebody with an infection?
3 What kind of company has branches in many countries?
4 How does a passenger aeroplane normally fly?
5 What is a student who is studying for a second degree?
6 What means 'underground railway' in the US and 'underground passage' in the UK?

Activity 5

Using the table opposite construct words or phrases to replace the underlined words.

Example: He's in favour of the American approach. He's pro-American.

1 The BBC tries to avoid pronouncing foreign words incorrectly.
2 Most people say they have to work too hard but are paid too little.
3 He dated his cheque with a date that was later than the real date.
4 She's still on good terms with the man who used to be her husband.
5 He made so many mistakes in the letter that he had to write it again.

Activity 6

Think of two more examples for each prefix in the table.

Roots

Many words in English are formed from a set of Latin roots with different prefixes and suffixes. Knowing the roots of such words may help you to remember or guess their meaning when you see them in context. These words are usually fairly formal. In their formation, they can perhaps be seen as the Latinate, formal, equivalent of phrasal verbs.

Here are some examples of the more common Latin roots, with some of the verbs derived from them. In each case an example sentence is given with the meaning of the verb in brackets at the end. You'll find some easier to understand than others.

spect: see, look
You should respect your parents / the laws of a country. [look up to]
The police suspected he was guilty but they had no proof. [had a feeling]
Many pioneers travelled west in America to prospect for gold. [search]

vert: turn
I tried a word-processor but I soon reverted to my old typewriter. [went back]
Missionaries went to Africa to convert people to Christianity. [change beliefs]
The royal scandal diverted attention from the political crisis. [took attention away]

port: carry, take
How are you going to transport your things to the States? [send across]
Britain imports cotton and exports wool. [buys in, sells out]
The roof is supported by the old beams. [held up]

duc, duct: lead
She was educated abroad. [went to school]
He conducted the orchestra with great vigour. [led] Japan produces a lot of electronic equipment. [makes] press: press, push

She was impressed by his presentation. [full of admiration and respect]
This weather depresses me. [makes me feel miserable]
She always expresses herself very articulately. [puts her thoughts into words]

pose, pone: place, put
The meeting has been postponed until next week. [changed to a later date]
The king was deposed by his own son. [put off the throne]
I don't want to impose my views on you. [force]

Above you only have examples of verbs. Note that for all the verbs listed, there is usually at least one noun and at least one adjective as well. Here are some examples.

verb	person noun	adjective	abstract noun
inspect	inspector	inspecting	inspection
advertise	advertiser	advertising	advertisement
deport	deportee	deported	deportation
introduce	introducer	introductory	introduction
oppress	oppressor	oppressive	oppression
compose	composer	composite	composition

Practice Activities:

Activity 1

Complete as much as possible of the table with other forms of some of the words presented in B. Use a dictionary to help you if necessary.

verb	person noun	adjective	abstract noun
convert	.....	.....	.....
produce	.....	.....	.....
conduct	.....	.....	.....
impress	.....	.....	.....
support	.....	.....	.....
impose	.....	.....	.....

Activity 2

Fill in the gaps in the sentences below using words from the table in C.

1 We stayed in a town surrounded by high mountains. I found it very .....
2 He ..... from the USA for having a forged passport.
3 The magazine seems to have nothing in it but ..... for cosmetics.
4 May I ..... you to my boss?
5 The tax ..... decided I owed a lot of money.
6 The new take-away pizza service has a very good ..... offer.
7 Business people always say that it pays .....
8 Tchaikovsky ..... some wonderful ballet music.

Activity 3

Can you work out the meanings of the underlined words in the sentences below?
To help you, here are the meanings of the main Latin prefixes:

intro: within, inward o, ob: against in, im: in, into re: again, back de: down, from ex: out sub: under trans: across

1 She's a very introspective person and he's also very introverted.
2 He always seems to oppose everything I suggest.
3 They have a very good induction programme for new staff in that company.
4 I don't think it is healthy to repress one's emotions too much.
5 Perhaps you can deduce what the word means from the way it is formed.
6 The documentary exposed corruption in high places.
7 She tried hard to suppress a laugh.
8 She transposed the music for the flute.

Activity 4

Think of three other words based on each of the roots listed in the language reference. Put each into an appropriate phrase.

Activity 5

Pair the formal verbs below with their phrasal verb equivalents.

support put off oppose look at cut down deposit hold up postpone turn away inspect go against divert reduce put down

Compound Nouns – Combinations of Two Nouns

A compound noun is a fixed expression which is made up of more than one word and functions as a noun. Such expressions are frequently combinations of two nouns, e.g. address book, human being, science fiction. A number of compound nouns are related to phrasal verbs and these are dealt with in Unit 14.

Compound nouns may be written as two words, e.g. tin opener, bank account, or they may be written with a hyphen instead of a space between the words, e.g. pen-name, baby-sitter. Some expressions are occasionally written with a hyphen and occasionally as two separate words. For instance, both letter box and letter-box are correct. Sometimes they may be written as one word, e.g. earring.

Compound nouns may be countable, uncountable or only used in either the singular or the plural. There are examples of each of these types below. Check that you understand the meanings of each of the expressions listed. If you understand both elements of the expression, the meaning will usually be clear. If the meaning is not fairly obvious, then it is provided below.

Usually the main stress is on the first part of the compound but sometimes it is on the second part. The word which contains the main stress is underlined in the compound nouns below.

Here are some examples of common countable compound nouns.

alarm clock	assembly line	blood donor	book token
burglar alarm	contact lens	credit card	handcuffs
heart attack	package holiday	pedestrian crossing	shoe horn
tea-bag	windscreen	windscreen wiper	youth hostel

Here are some examples of common uncountable compound nouns. These are never used with an article.

air-traffic control	birth control	blood pressure	cotton wool
data-processing	family planning	food poisoning	pocket money
income tax	junk food	mail order	hay fever (allergy to pollen)

Here are some examples of common compound nouns used only in the singular.

arms race (countries wanting most powerful weapons)	death penalty
generation gap	labour force
mother-tongue	sound barrier
greenhouse effect	welfare state brain drain (highly educated people leaving country to work abroad)

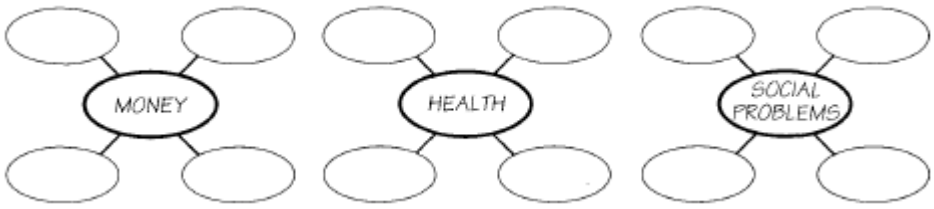

Here are some examples of common compound nouns used only in the plural.

grass roots	luxury goods	human rights	kitchen scissors
race relations	roadworks	sunglasses	traffic lights

Practice Activities:

Activity 1

Complete these networks with any appropriate expressions from the language reference. Add extra bubbles if you need them.

Activity 2

In some cases more than one compound noun can be formed from one particular element. What, for example, are the two expressions listed opposite with blood as an element and what are the two based on control? Complete the following compound nouns with a noun other than the one suggested opposite.

1 .....token	5 tea.....	9 .....crossing
2 junk.....	6 mother.....	10 .....lights
3 sound.....	7 .....tax	11 food.....
4 blood.....	8 .....processing	12 .....race

Activity 3

What are they talking about? In each case the answer is a compound noun from the language reference.

Example: 'I had it taken at the doctor's this morning and he said it was a little high for my age.' blood pressure

1 'You really shouldn't cross the road at any other place.'
2 'It's partly caused by such things as hair sprays and old fridges.'
3 'She always has terrible sneezing fits in the early summer.'
4 'I can't understand why they spend so much money on something so destructive.'
5 'Working there is supposed to be much more stressful than being a pilot.'
6 'The worst time was when I dropped one at the theatre and spent the interval scrabbling around on the floor.'
7 'I don't think it should ever be used under any circumstances.'
8 'It's much easier not to have to make your own arrangements.'
9 'He can't possibly run away from the policeman with those on!'

Activity 4

Now make up some sentences like those in Activity 3 relating to some of the new expressions you made in Activity 2.

Activity 5

Choose any article in a magazine or newspaper and write down all the compound nouns you find.

Activity 6

Look at the compound expressions you have worked with in this unit. Mark all those that you feel you need to be able to use yourself rather than just to understand when others use them.

Conversion

What is conversion?

Conversion means that a word changes its job without changing its shape. We add no prefix and no suffix. The same word simply starts to work as a different part of speech.

- water (noun): Can I have a glass of water?
- water (verb): Please water the plants.

Compare this with the roots method. There, we add pieces to a root: inspect → inspector → inspection. In conversion, we add nothing: an email → to email. Teachers sometimes call this "zero derivation", because the ending is zero.

Conversion is very common in English. It is one reason why English learners can use new words quickly: if you know the noun, you can often guess the verb.

Common patterns

The most common change is from a noun to a verb. Verb to noun is also very frequent.

Pattern	Word	Before	After
noun → verb	email	I got an email.	Email me tomorrow.
noun → verb	phone	My phone is new.	I'll phone you tonight.
noun → verb	book	I'm reading a book.	We booked a table.
noun → verb	brush	Use a brush.	Brush your teeth.
verb → noun	run	I run every day.	I went for a run.
verb → noun	drink	I drink tea.	Would you like a drink?
verb → noun	smile	She smiled at me.	She has a lovely smile.
verb → noun	help	Can you help me?	Thanks for your help.
adjective → verb	clean	The room is clean.	Please clean the room.
adjective → verb	empty	The box is empty.	Empty the box.
adjective → verb	calm	He stayed calm.	Calm down!
adjective → noun	the rich, the young	a rich man	The rich do not always feel happy.

With the + adjective, the word means a group of people: the poor, the old, the young, the unemployed. It takes a plural verb: The young are often good with technology.

How to tell which word you have

Because the shape does not change, the sentence tells you the job of the word. Ask three questions.

1. Where is it? After a, the, my, some or an adjective, it is a noun: *a drink, my phone, some help. After a subject or after to, will, can, must, it is a verb: I drink tea. I will phone you.
2. Can it change form? A verb can take -s, -ed, -ing: *She emails, she emailed, she is emailing. A noun takes a/an or a plural -s: *an email, two emails.
3. Does the stress move? A small group of two-syllable words change stress. The noun has stress on the first syllable, and the verb on the second.

Noun	Verb
a REcord	to reCORD
a PREsent	to preSENT
a CONtest	to conTEST
PROduce (fruit and vegetables)	to proDUCE (make)

A few words also change the final sound: a use /juːs/ → to use /juːz/; a house /haʊs/ → to house /haʊz/.

Watch out

- The meaning changes a little. When a noun becomes a verb, the new meaning is usually one of three types: put in or on (to butter bread = put butter on it), use (to phone someone = use a phone), or act as (to chair a meeting = be the chair).
- Not every word converts. We say to email but not to computer. There is no rule. When you meet a new word, check a dictionary: it lists every job the word can do.
- New conversions appear all the time. to google (search online), to zoom (have a video call), to ghost (stop answering someone), to bookmark (save a page). Many are informal, so check the style before you use them in an essay.
- Do not confuse conversion with suffixes. Advice (noun) and advise (verb) are different words with different spelling. That is not conversion.

Practice Activities:

Activity 1 – Same word, different job

Write N (noun), V (verb) or Adj (adjective) for each word in bold.

1. Can I phone you tonight? ____
2. My phone is broken. ____
3. We went for a long walk by the river. ____
4. I walk to school every day. ____
5. Please clean the kitchen. ____
6. The kitchen is very clean. ____
7. Don't forget to email me the photos. ____
8. I got an email from my teacher. ____

Activity 2 – Noun or adjective to verb

Use the word in brackets as a verb. Change its form if you need to.

1. Anna sent me a text. → Anna ____ me this morning. (text)
2. I use a brush for my hair. → I ____ my hair every morning. (brush)
3. I'm reading a good book. → We have ____ a table for eight. (book)
4. She put butter on the toast. → She ____ her toast and sat down. (butter)
5. The plants need water. → Please ____ the plants while I'm away. (water)
6. The box is empty. → Please ____ the box before you throw it away. (empty)

Activity 3 – Verb to noun

Complete each sentence with a word from the box. Use it as a noun. You can use a word twice.

run · drink · smile · help · visit · call · swim

1. I need some ____ with my homework.
2. He gave me a big ____ when he saw me.
3. Would you like a ____ of water?
4. We had a lovely ____ from our grandparents last weekend.
5. I'll give you a ____ when I get home.
6. After the long ____ in the sea, we were tired.
7. She goes for a ____ in the park every morning.

Activity 4 – Say it with the right stress

Read each sentence aloud. Mark the stressed syllable of the bold word in capital letters, for example REcord or reCORD.

1. This is my favourite record. ____
2. Please record the lesson. ____
3. We bought fresh produce at the market. ____
4. Japan will produce more cars next year. ____

Activity 5 – New verbs and your own sentences

1. Guess the meaning. What does the verb in bold mean?

4. I googled the restaurant before we went. ____
5. We zoomed with our cousins in Canada. ____
6. He ghosted me. He never answered my messages. ____
7. Let's bookmark this page so we can find it later. ____

2. Write your own. For each word, write two sentences: one with a noun and one with a verb.

- plan · cook · wish · laugh

3. Talk with a partner. Do you use verbs made from nouns in your own language? Which new ones have you heard recently?

Part 2: Reading comprehension

Before You Read

A. Connect with the topic. Which statements describe the game of tennis? Which describe bowling? Write T (tennis) or B (bowling).

___ a. To play, you need a ball and ten pins.

___ b. For this game, you need a ball, a racquet, and a net.

___ c. Players hit the ball back and forth to each other.

___ d. If you miss the ball, your opponent gets a point.

B. Pair work. What else do you know about tennis and bowling? Share information with a partner.

About the Author

American Nancy Sakamoto wrote "Conversational Ball Games" while she was teaching English in Japan. She wrote about other experiences and cross-cultural observations of her life in Japan in a book called Polite Fictions: Why Japanese and Americans Seem Rude to Each Other.

After You Read

Understanding the Text

A. Comprehension

For each item below, fill in the correct circle.

1. Finding the Main Idea The main idea of this article is:

Ⓐ People converse differently in Japan than in the West.
Ⓑ It's important to take part in conversations.
Ⓒ It's difficult to have a conversation with someone from another country.
Ⓓ It's rude to interrupt someone who is speaking.

2. Scanning for Details The author makes all of the following arguments except:

Ⓐ Japanese-style conversations are like bowling.
Ⓑ Western-style conversations are like tennis or volleyball.
Ⓒ In Japanese-style conversations, you must wait your turn to speak.
Ⓓ Western-style conversations are longer than Japanese-style conversations.

14 belatedly realize realize after it's too late

15 carry on a conversation have a conversation

3. Using Context In line 44, the word alley probably means ___ in bowling.
   - Ⓐ the place where you write your score
   - Ⓑ the place where players sit
   - Ⓒ something you wear
   - Ⓓ the place where you roll the ball

4. Identifying Pronoun References In line 6, the word this refers to:
   - Ⓐ I had simple conversations with my friends.
   - Ⓑ People looked surprised when I said something in Japanese.
   - Ⓒ My Japanese became good enough for me to have conversations with Japanese friends.
   - Ⓓ When I joined the conversation, people looked surprised and the conversation stopped.

5. Making Inferences You can infer from the article that the author ___.
   - Ⓐ was born in Japan
   - Ⓑ has always lived in Japan
   - Ⓒ is a teacher
   - Ⓓ no longer lives in Japan

6. Identifying the Author's Purpose The author's purpose in writing this article was not to ___.
   - Ⓐ instruct
   - Ⓑ entertain
   - Ⓒ compare
   - Ⓓ criticize

B. Consider the Issues

Work with a partner to answer the questions below.

1. What are the characteristics of a Western-style conversation and a Japanese-style conversation? Add ideas from the article to the chart below.

Western Conversation	Japanese Conversation
okay to disagree	important to wait for your turn to speak

2. When you are having a conversation with a friend, is it more like a Western-style or a Japanese-style conversation? Why?

3. What is the author's attitude toward Western- and Japanese-style conversations? Does she think one style is better than the other?

Part 3: Oral Expression – Switch Games

(file:///E:/Week%207%20files/Switch%20Games.html)
